Snack Calendar

There will be no snack calendar sent home in December. We have plenty of extra in the snack closet to last us through the month of December.

However, if you were really looking forward to bringing our class a special Christmas snack, you can let me know. We will pick a date or just surprise us.

"Cleaning out the snack closet" has been extended through the first week of January because nobody should have to keep track of a snack calendar in the middle of Christmas chaos, joy!
